Monitoring your kids' social media accounts

As connected as kids are today, it can be a full-time job for parents to know everything they're doing online. Many kids may seem comfortable with technology and the internet, but you might forget that they're still learning and may not be prepared to spot the risks and pitfalls of being constantly connected — especially when it comes to social media.

Here are some helpful tips so you and your children can enjoy social media more safely.

- Most apps have an age requirement you can follow
- Check the privacy setting on apps regularly.
- Consider using a trusted security suite with parental controls on your child's device.
- Make sure you change the settings on their devices to ask your permission before installing an app.
- Monitor your child's social media use and digital imprint - ensure your child is not part of large group chats that share inappropriate comments or images.
- Seek support for phone / gaming addiction from our wellbeing team.

Year 12 Class of 2023

Olivia Macklan - What I like to do in my spare time is reading a book, going to the gym and hanging out with my family. I work at ABS Wodonga part-time and really enjoy it and hope to pursue a career in the Automotive industry in the future. This year I am looking forward to finishing high school and graduating at the end of the year.

Metal Tech

Year 8 Metal Tech classes have been working hard this term in making their own tool boxes and other little knick-knacks. Students have been using a range of tools and equipment to develop their final projects.

“I like that we can make many things and explore the use of the metal tech area.” – Emily Macleod, Year 8

“I like that we get to use the items we make after we complete them. The making can be frustrating at times but easy to do when you learn what to do” – Holly Hall, Year 8

All students have been putting in 100% effort each class and should be extremely proud of the work that they have completed over the term.

MUSIC

“Music expresses that which cannot be put into words and that which cannot remain silent” — Victor Hugo

It is with great happiness that I would like to announce that we had a very successful Term One in the music department and in the PAC. Either in class, or in weekly lessons each school day, I have witnessed some brilliant accomplishments and improvements in the musical abilities of our student musicians. Further to this, I have seen young people become more confident, kind, less afraid to express themselves, more willing to have a go and often be rewarded for their efforts.

As the winter concert draws closer, we have locked in the musicians performing and the songs that they will be doing. It is up to the students to do the extra work needed to ensure that they produce a quality performance on the night. Students who do not do the work needed leading up to the event might not get to perform on the night.

Term One music lessons will roll into Term Two at the same scheduled times. New music students who have returned a signed enrolment form wishing to start in Term Two, will have their lesson added to Compass before the end of Term One.

As it has been such a big term, it must be said that a well-deserved holiday is needed to recharge, energise, and practice. I highly encourage our musicians to maintain or extend their abilities through regular practice so that they can maximise their abilities and their musical potential. As always, thank you to all (students, teachers, parents/guardians, and community members) for enabling our little music program to thrive. Please stay safe and well in your travels and I eagerly look forward to working with you all in Term Two!

In great music, and with kindness and gratitude as always,

Rhys Douglas McKee, Music Program Coordinator

SPORT

On the Thursday the 30th of March, 70 of our Year 9 to 12 students went out to various locations in Wodonga/Albury to participate in the annual O&M end of term sports. The sports students had a choice from this term were: Volleyball, Tennis and Cricket. The day saw great success with our intermediate volleyball, cricket and tennis teams all making it to the next level after dominating their respective sports all day. It was great to see maximum participation from everyone involved on the day, and as always, our uniform was looking spot on with students representing the college colours with pride. Thankyou to all the staff who took time out of their busy school schedules to coach, umpire, supervise and help our many teams of athletes have a smoothly run day. Also thankyou to everyone and their positive attitude and behaviour throughout the day making an impressive impression amongst other schools in the division.

Congratulations to all qualifying teams,

Intermediate Girls Volleyball

Phoenix Attree, Rosie Wright, Mackenzie Limbrick, Ella Lamb, Ally Schwarz, Jemma Dodd, Jade Wood, Rory Kearny.

Health

Holidays are approaching... Well done to all for getting through Term 1!

It has been a long term, busy, but great term. Year 10s - 12s attended The Prevent Alcohol and Risk-Related Trauma in Youth (P.A.R.T.Y.) program. We hope they can takeaway some positive messages for this highly demanded program (300 schools on waiting list). Thankyou everyone, parents, students and teachers and ES staff for contacting families.

Sue coordinator of the Alfred PARTY program:

"Thanks so much Leah. It was a delight working with you all. You made my job so much easier being so organized. Just wanted to check how many students attended today if you could let me know. (92) Thanks so much!!!

That's such a great effort. Have a great day"

Being a teenager can be a confusing, scary, but a fun time; it is a time to experiment, however, experiment safely has been the key message!

I hope you can also find some time to have "me time" and time to have some good times with children before the cooler weather kicks in and makes it a bit harder to venture outside

Things parents can do:

Taking positive risks: Look for activities or programs that allow for positive risk taking such as mountain biking, indoor or outdoor rock-climbing, volunteering with the local scouts, park rides or testing new tricks at the skate or trampoline park.

Build self-esteem: Sometimes teens take risks to fit in with a group, but when they feel safe and supported at home it helps them think of consequences and they are less likely to respond to peer pressure. A parent's love and support is essential for teens' self-esteem. Building self-esteem includes showing genuine interest in their hobbies and friends and taking time to really listen when they want to talk.

Have agreed boundaries: It helps if families can talk about their values and rules and set agreed boundaries and expectations with their teens. These will change as they develop and mature to allow them space to grow and try new experiences. For example, families might have agreed rules around curfews that change as teens develop and demonstrate their ability to respond responsibly.

Support teen decision making: Talking about pros and cons of actions, working through scenarios and brainstorming options on how to say 'no' helps teens navigate tricky situations, and can help parents feel more confident in their teen when they are out and about.

Let teens know you are there to support them, no matter what, and that they can come to you whatever happens. And if you require any support and advice, please contact the schools wellbeing team.

Take care- See you in Term 2!
